MAZOVIA

a place for business

Why is the Mazovian region the best choice for business tourism and conferences? There are numerous reasons why Mazovia has become an economic powerhouse, beyond the usual 'it's the largest' or 'the richest'. It's worth exploring the strengths of this unique Polish region, because they may well inspire others to achieve great heights.

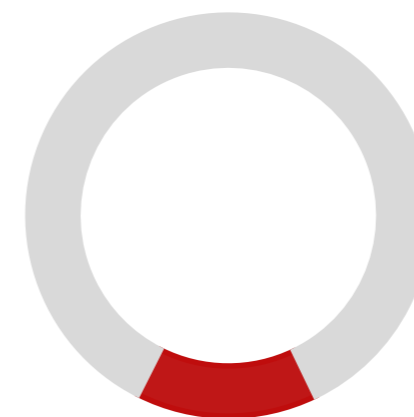

Some say that might conquers all. This saying best describes the potential of Mazovia – the largest region in the country. It covers an area of over 35,500 km², representing 11.3% of Poland's land area, and is inhabited by over 5.5 million people, or 14.6% of Poland's population. It is divided into 42 counties, including five major cities (Warsaw, Ostrołęka, Płock, Radom, Siedlce), and 314 municipalities. The region's, and Poland's, capital is Warsaw, which lies at the epicentre of the highly urbanised Warsaw metropolitan area. The so-called Warsaw Capital Region (RWS) occupies over 17% of the entire voivodship and possesses extraordinary resources. It hosts 77% of all businesses registered in the Mazovian region, including 79% of the high- and medium-high-technology sector and 85% of the knowledge-based services sector. Since 2015, it has recorded a continuous increase in the number of businesses overall as well as small and medium-sized entities. The region's investment draw is consolidated by five special economic zones along with three science and technology parks.

The labour market is the most unequivocal indicator of the region's economic success. Although Poland as a whole is experiencing population decline, the Mazovian job market acts as a magnet, generating a consistent

The Mazovian railway network is constantly developing with a spoke-hub layout centred on the Warsaw Railway Junction and comprising seven main lines and a Warsaw Commuter Railway (WKD). Radom, alongside Warsaw, also plays a key role in this railway network. The main regional carrier is Mazovian Railway (KM), a company established by the Mazovian local government. KM provides local services and connections to neighbouring hub stations, with state-of-the-art rolling stock, including electric multiple units. Regular, convenient transportation within the Warsaw metropolitan area is provided by the Fast Urban Railway (SKM), also renowned for its state-of-the-art trains. PKP Intercity trains primarily carry passengers to major cities in other regions.

positive balance of internal and international migration. Over 16% of all employed people in Poland work in the Mazovian region, earning 17.6% more, on average, than workers in other regions. The unemployment rate in Mazovia is a mere 4%, falling to just 2% in the Warsaw Capital Region (the national average is 5.1%). A prosperous labour market, competitive job offers, and high salaries are proving to be a constant draw, pulling in highly skilled workers too. This trend means a steadily growing housing market. Mazovia clearly heads the country in this regard – accounting for 16% of Poland's housing stock and a staggering 19.6% of all new homes built in 2023!

Personal development opportunities are largely determined by access to quality education, which is also a driving force for economic development. In this regard, the Mazovian region clearly leads the way.

Approximately one-quarter of Poland's universities are located here. Nearly 20% of all high school students study in Mazovia, and the exceptionally large number of childcare facilities means that both parents can work.

Is Mazovia also ahead of other regions in terms of industry and transport? Absolutely. Sold industrial production in the Mazovian region amounted to over PLN 604 billion in 2023, representing 23.7% of the total for Poland. Mazovia also boasts over 13% of all hard-surface public roads in the country, used by 16% of all passenger cars registered in Poland.

Mazovia is Poland's strongest economic region, as confirmed by its share in GDP – PLN 808.3 billion in 2023, a whopping 23.8% of Poland's total GDP. At the same time, GDP increased by 11.8% year-on-year (2022–2023) in current prices, a rise recorded in all Mazovia's subregions.

GDP per capita has risen to PLN 142,300 or 157.4% of the Polish average.

However, Mazovia is not just about high-tech industries and knowledge-based services. The region also offers unrivalled cultural attractions, numerous places of historical interest, as well as areas of natural beauty alongside large and medium-sized urban areas. Here, too, the numbers speak for themselves. The Mazovian region is home to over 14% of all museums nationwide, attracting a staggering 33.5% of all visitors in Poland!

MAZOVIA

Where a genius was born

The young Frédéric Chopin spent the first 20 years of his life in Warsaw. The places where he studied, made friends, and later gave concerts are too numerous to mention. Here in the Basilica of the Holy Cross, lies an urn containing his heart. In Mazovia itself are many places he visited and returned to. These include Żelazowa Wola (where he was born), Brochów (where he was baptised), and Sanniki, where he would spend idyllic vacations.

The house in Żelazowa Wola where Frédéric Chopin was born is a popular destination. It has been carefully restored and is open to visitors, surrounded by a 7-hectare landscape park on the Utrata River.

Chopin Recitals are held here on weekends from May to September. A visit to the biographical museum can be combined with a trip to the historic Church of St. Roch in Brochów, where the composer's parents were married and he was baptised. Sanniki, with its Frédéric Chopin European Artistic Centre, plays an important role in Mazovia for cultivating Chopin's musical identity.

Warsaw features a Chopin trail that leads through the stunning Ostrogski Castle with its interactive Frédéric Chopin Museum, Krakowskie Przedmieście Street, home to the Kazimierzowski Palace and Czapski Palace, where the Chopin family resided, and the Basilica of the Holy Cross, where Chopin's heart is buried, in accordance with his last wishes. While retracing the composer's footsteps you can take a rest along the way on 'Chopin benches', featuring famous compositions. These commemorate the places where young Frédéric's used to play, the music school he attended, and his favourite cafés.

a historical background

Mazovia is a place where history meets modernity, and a centuries-old heritage lives on – among castles, strongholds and fortifications, historical churches, old factories, and bustling towns.

Centuries ago, this area was crisscrossed by trade routes and roads trodden by armies – King Jagiełło’s knights at Grunwald, soldiers of the Grand Army in Napoleon’s 1806 campaign, and Polish forces in the September Campaign. It was here that the once capital of Poland, Płock, was located at the turn of the 12th century. Only at the end of the 16th century did Sigismund III Vasa move the royal court from Kraków to Warsaw. It was then that the region gained the political significance that it retains to this day. The presence of princes, kings, noblemen, and aristocrats left a lasting imprint on the region’s cultural landscape – its architecture, art, and traditions. One of the most beautiful churches is the Płock Basilica on Tumskie Hill, the final resting place of Poland’s rulers. The mighty Modlin Fortress to this day remains one of the best-preserved fortification systems in Europe, comparable only to Verdun in France. A visit to the monumental castles of the Dukes of Mazovia in Ciechanów and Czersk offers a genuine journey back to the Middle Ages. Here, colourful outdoor events, craft workshops, and fairs reminiscent of period tournaments are held.

The industrial revolution of the 19th century contributed enormously to Mazovia’s development, bringing in its wake railways, factories that still operate today, and the Żyrardów industrial complex, a unique site in Europe. Today, visitors are welcome to experience some phenomenal venues such as the Koneser Praga Centre, which, alongside world-class restaurants and bars, hosts the modern Polish Vodka Museum and the Google Campus for Startups. Warsaw’s Praga district is also home to the Soho Factory and the E. Wedel Chocolate Factory Museum. ‘Elektrownia’ – the Mazovian Centre for Contemporary Art in Radom, associated with Oscar winner Andrzej Wajda – is a big draw for art lovers. The Piaseczno and Grójec Narrow-

Gauge Railway (on the Piaseczno-Tarczyn-Piaseczno route) and the Sochaczew Narrow-Gauge Railway Retro Train (Sochaczew-Kampinos Forest-Sochaczew) offer unique narrow-gauge train rides. The Industrial Mazovia trail boasts over 100 unique sites and locations for enthusiasts of grand buildings, historic factories, the automotive industry, and technological inventions.

nature like you've never seen before

The uniqueness of Mazovia's natural environment is demonstrated by its reserves covering over 1 million hectares that stretch along the region's major rivers, creating safe migration paths for animals. The most significant is the Vistula Ecological Corridor, a natural 'highway' for biodiversity.

The most renowned and precious natural attraction in Mazovia is Kampinos National Park – a UNESCO World Biosphere Reserve. The park is literally right next door to the capital city. Hundreds of kilometres of hiking and cycling trails crisscross the area, also suitable for horseback riding as well as cross-country skiing in winter. The area is packed with many interesting attractions: entertainment venues such as Julinek Park, the narrow-gauge railway, and the Palmiry Memorial Museum. Valuable plant life as well as historical or regionally distinctive buildings are all protected within the nine landscape parks in Mazovia. The Kozienice Landscape Park is one of the most popular, and resembles a primeval forest in places. Ornithologists head to the Mazovian rivers. The Bug Valley is a delightful spot with wild, inaccessible meanders, while the banks of the Wkra River are covered with rare and precious riparian forests. The gently flowing Wkra is popular with kayakers, including the less experienced. In fact, kayaking is a major attraction in almost every corner of the region. Popular waterways include low-key rivers like the Jeziorka, Świder, and Skrwa rivers, or more famous ones like the Narew, Pilica, and Vistula.

Mazovia's nature is worth exploring on scenic bike trips, especially since the region boasts a wealth of paths and trails. Approximately 200 km of cycle paths run through Kampinos National Park, and as many as 350 km through the Kozienice Forest. The Kurpie, Central Vistula and Bug regions offer some interesting cycling excursions. Unique attractions, as well as challenges, include the Zegrze Lake Cycling Loop, the so-called 'Bloody Loop' that circles Warsaw, and the Mazovian Gravel ultramarathon routes.

with the essence of Polish culture

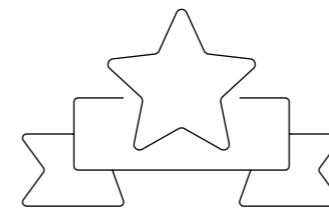

The culture of Mazovia is rightly associated with the main events in Poland's theatrical, musical, and artistic calendar. The capital city and Mazovia host world-famous events such as the Jazz Jamboree and the International Frédéric Chopin Piano Competition (which held its 19th edition in 2025).

Warsaw, like all the great capital cities of the world, has an extraordinary magnetism. Open and inspiring, it is a place of opportunity where bold, innovative ideas can be shared, along with styles, and intellectual currents. Beyond Warsaw, international events attract audiences in Płock (Summer Fall Festival and Vistula Folk Festival), Radom (the poetry festival at the Łażnia Gallery and the 'Okna' philosophy festival), and Siedlce (MOK Summer Music Festival). Importantly, Mazovia also boasts its own ethnic and folk culture, cultivated with extraordinary commitment. This is expressed by the world-renowned 'Mazowsze' National Folk Song and Dance Ensemble. The Karolin Palace, the former headquarters of the 'Mazowsze' ensemble, houses the unique Polish Folklore Center. The Kurpie Museum in Wach and the Open-Air Museum in Kadzidło offer visitors a taste of colourful and delightful Kurpie folklore. Celebrations and events such as Palm Sunday in Kurpie, fairs, the Kurpie Honey Harvest, and the Kurpie Wedding are still very much alive in the Ostrołęka area. Other places on the folk culture map of Mazovia include the Open-Air Museum in Kuligów, the Museum of the Mazovian Countryside in Sierpc, and the Radom Village Museum in Radom. The Open-Air Museum of Forest Architecture in Granica, located inside the Kampinos National Park, is a particular gem. It's important to remember that Mazovia is a region with strong agricultural traditions, and consequently, a unique and diverse cuisine, featuring fruit, preserves, liqueurs, rural and aristocratic influences, as well as flavours borrowed from people of other faiths and nationalities living nearby. No visit to Mazovia is complete without savouring meat dishes layered with Grójec apples or feasting on dishes straight from Kurpie, such as rejbak, fafernychy, and łagodniak crumble.

Mazovia – here, the impossible becomes possible. The map of attractions being a source of thrill is filled to the brim. Parachute jumping, sky and paragliding, paintball and shooting ranges, climbing walls, rope parks and stables – such offers can be found in every corner of the region.

Some attractions place Mazovia on the top, not only in Poland, but also in Europe – and all of them have something to do with water. Deepspot in Mszczonów is the deepest diving pool in Europe and second deepest in the world (its depth is 45 meters). It has underwater caves and a sunk ship, which you can discover under the guidance of professional instructors. Not far away from the Deepspot there are the Mszczonów Thermal Pools and Suntago Park of Poland – the largest indoor water park in Europe. Here the temperature is 32°C and over 700 natural palm trees create a real tropical climate. 35 slides together with 18 swimming pools guarantee tremendous fun.

Zegrze Reservoir invites water sports and water recreation lovers in a luxury setting. Wakeboard, flyboard, windsurfing, water skiing, banana boat rides or maybe sailing? Zegrze Reservoir is full of attractions. Water sports equipment rentals and marinas can be found along the beaches, rich in additional attractions like piers, sports fields, and playgrounds (Nieporęt, Serock, Wieliszew). These full of life areas border wild beaches sheltered by rush. There are also elegant restaurants, club bars, and sailor’s pubs where you can listen to the beautiful sounds of sea shanties in the afternoon.

The hotel is located in the center of Góra Kalwaria and is a historical monument from 1863. It has preserved original elements in the form of characteristic red brick, which gives the interiors a loft style. It was built on the site of the former headquarters of the military garrison, previously occupied by Dominican monks. The barracks, combining history with the present, give the opportunity to feel the atmosphere of times gone by in modern interiors. The eclectic style of the interiors fits in with current trends, and combined with functionality, guarantees comfortable rest.

The Museum is located in the town hall. The historical building is an architectural landmark of the city. Founded by Aleksandra Oginska, the 18th-century building is commonly called 'Jack,' in honour of the duchess's butler, who, according to the legend, posed for a sculpture of Atlas, crowning the clock tower. The architecture of the Town Hall combines the styles from late Baroque, through Rococo, to classicism. Since the building was constructed, there have been at least four statues of Atlas on the tower. The current one was made in the 1960s. The Museum collects and makes available cultural artifacts from the fields of art, ethnography, archive photography, archaeology and history. For 9 years, the owners of the facility have been reinterpreting the family place. Polish countryside, the border of Mazovia and Podlasie, multi-generational history. The farm will surprise you with its unique atmosphere of slow life; free, without pomposity, artificiality. Around the barn you will find a real chill space; deckchairs, hammocks, two spacious terraces by the barn, the glow of the bonfire, wooden paths by our gardens and a stunning, unlimited view.

DREAM EVENTS POLAND

We don't create events. We create experiences that stay with people long after the stage lights dim.

For 18 years, we have been operating on the edge where emotion meets precision – in the world of events, incentive travel, and conferences. For us, each project is a story, combining brand vision with human tales, relationships, and the synergy of people coming together. We work with companies, institutions, and organisations that believe that a well-designed event can change perspectives, energise teams, and open up new possibilities.

In Mazovia, like in the rest of Poland and throughout the world, we take people on a journey of emotions, inspiration, and collaborative action.
